THE USERS

RUSTON,
LOUISIANA

After his cousin mysteriously dies with a headset on, tech-head RAVI buys a Virtual Vows subscription to investigate. He joins three other users exploring the technology for their own reasons.

Ravi 29

Savvy tech sleuth.

Using his background as a computer programmer, he immerses himself in the program to find answers.

Marcus 43

Recovering addict.

Seeking peace and belonging in his struggle with addiction and commitment.

Natalie 48

Grieving widow.

Torn between caring for her daughter and her desire to relive moments with her deceased husband.

George 35

Lonely cynic.

A marketing professional seeking deep personal connections and romantic relationships.

THE SPECTATORS

"You can't stop love. You can only pay to watch it die."

Beneath the surface, Virtual Vows is a dark web betting ring where wealthy voyeurs gamble on users' emotional endurance and survival, watching virtual love turn into real psychological ruin.

THE MINISTER

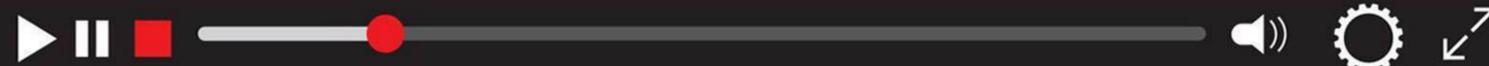

The enigmatic overseer can intensify the users' emotional attachment and distress, including removing their emergency escape button and triggering jealousy scenarios.
